Children: The Challenge (Plume): Amazon.co.uk: Rudolph Dreikurs, Vicki Soltz: 9780801590108: Books. The Challenge in parenting, as presented by Rudolf Dreikurs, is democracy. Whereas previous societies were built on hierarchies the current (American) society is founded on egalitarian ideals. This has created problems in the family because children know-at least subconsciously-that they are "equal" with adults; so why should they comply with an adult's wishes.

A psychiatrist analyzes methods of rearing children and correcting past mistakes in accordance with sound psychological principles

First Published in 2000. Routledge is an imprint of Taylor & Francis, an informa company.

Who are the star children? In recent years, much has been written about "gifted" children with special abilities, sometimes called "indigo children" or "crystal children." It is said that these children are coming to earth to help humanity in its development. Based on extensive research, Georg K hlewind confirms that this new generation has been incarnating among us for the past couple of decades. This event, he states, is one of the most important of our age. Unlike many other contributors to this discussion, K hlewind gives us the necessary background to follow experientially what he has to say. He takes us consciously and scientifically into the realm from which we all enter the world as babies, "trailing clouds of glory." We all possess the tools he describes for taking this path: our thoughts, our heart forces, and our willpower. By using these faculties with full attention—by focusing our attentiveness and eliminating everything else—we can enter the realm of the spirit where the prevailing laws are different from those on Earth. The author helps us by closing each chapter with themes for contemplation and meditation. Star Children is a compelling addition to the literature on the theme of "special children," offering a unique perspective based on spiritual science and research.

Proposes a system of discipline based on natural and logical consequences.
