In this revised BST volume, John Stott clearly expounds Paul's words, themes, and arguments in Romans and offers applications for today's readers. Deeply acquainted with the text and context of Romans and Pauline scholarship, Stott also explores the epistle's rich harmonies and broad vision, highlighting the power of the gospel.

This version of The Message Numbered Edition, when paired with your favorite Bible study, will deliver a reading experience that is reliable, energetic, and amazingly fresh. Features: * exclusively designed verse numbering system * handcrafted maps and charts * satin ribbon marker

Paul was the most influential figure in the early Christian church. In this epistle, written to the founders of the church in Rome, he sets out some of his ideas on the importance of faith in overcoming mankind's innate sinfulness and in obtaining redemption. With an introduction by Ruth Rendell

The gospel has power: the power to save us, the power to change the world. The truth in Romans will transform your thinking and convict your heart as you discover the power of the gospel for every area of your life and our world. In this newly updated Bible study guide you can explore Scripture under John Stott's guidance.

Insightful and heart-warming, this classic book is written for those who seek to know God better. It unfolds life-impacting, biblical truths and has been called a "soul-stirring celebration of the pleasures of knowing God."

This book presents two new proposals regarding Paul's Letter to the Romans. First, with regard to the structure of the letter, it demonstrates how each of the four main sections of the letter is comprised of a series of microchiastic units arranged in a macrochiastic pattern. The delineation of these structures facilitates the demonstration of the second new proposal, namely, that worship is a key theme of the letter. The theme of worship, both liturgical and ethical, streams through the letter from beginning to end. The letter's theme of worship is closely associated with its themes of hope and glory. In and through the letter Paul calls on believers, made righteous with God from the faith that engenders an absolutely assured hope, to worship in hope of the glory of God, in hope of attaining the glory of the immortal God for which they were created, the glory of the divine life eternal of the risen Lord Jesus Christ.

In Book 2, So Great A Fall, I invite you to come with me into God's courtroom, where God's Advocate, the Holy Spirit, makes the strongest case ever made in the Bible against sinful man through the pen of one of God's finest associates, the apostle Paul. In Romans 1:18-3:20, God exposes the ugly atrocities of man's sins, accusing him of the most heinous crimes in the Book. Sinful man stands before a holy God defenseless, without legal representation. If convicted he will sentenced, not only to a life of bondage under sin, but also banished eternally to hell fire-the worst punishment for his disobedience against God. The main theme of the Book of Romans is the revelation of the righteousness of God as the only means by which man may obtain salvation. In order to perfectly present God's way of salvation, it is vital to first pose the problem and then present the solution. It is essential to prove man's guilt before a righteous God. Sinful man stands condemned before a holy God. A revelation of God's righteousness must be simultaneously attended by a revelation of God's wrath against every ungodliness and unrighteousness of sinful man. The rebellious sinner must be put on notice that God will not tolerate sin-God will judge sin. In order for sinful man to have any chance of being redeemed, an offended God must first be appeased and he must then be reconciled to God. The revelation of God's righteousness is in progress. The exposition of man's essential malady must be complete in order to reveal the righteousness of God. What is interesting in this glorious epic of God's saving grace is the meaningful contrast between God's will and man's disobedience. One author explains it so well: "Good news presupposes bad news; salvation presupposes being lost; mercy presupposes misery; grace presupposes gui
